Performance Management

For the first month the Account Executive will work according to a 30-day induction plan giving specific guidelines on daily tasks to achieve. From the end of the program onwards, the Account Executive will have a monthly review with their immediate manager at the end of each month. Every 6 months, a formal appraisal will take place with the immediate manager.

Reviews are designed to examine:

- Written and paid business performance
- Daily key performance areas (i.e. minimum 120 minutes of talk time and minimum of 2 qualified C-Level decisions per day)
- General performance areas
- Key improvement areas

From this review, Management will set specific goals and objectives for a new Account Executive to achieve Senior Account Executive, Team Leader, Assistant Manager and Sales Manager status over a 12 month period.
